Material for your showreel

Where would you like to take your presenting?

TV & broadcast

Develop a foundation in camera technique, spoken delivery and working with a teleprompter.

YouTube & social media

Sound more conversational, shape a clear message and connect naturally with the person watching.

Business & personal brands

Bring confidence and personality to explainers, professional videos and content that shares your expertise.

New to presenting? You are welcome. The masterclass also suits people with some experience who want to strengthen their foundations.

YOUR PROGRAMME / DAY ONE

Build your foundation.

A practical introduction to feeling at ease, using your voice and communicating clearly through the lens.

MORNING / 01

Confidence & camera presence

Explore eye contact, posture and body language. Learn ways to settle nerves and direct your attention towards the viewer.

AFTERNOON / 03

Scripts that sound spoken

Give an idea a clear opening, development and ending. Practise using words that feel comfortable to say aloud.

MORNING / 02

Voice, pace & personality

Work on clarity, emphasis and variation so your delivery sounds natural and your message is easier to follow.

AFTERNOON / 04

Teleprompter technique

Practise reading from a teleprompter while maintaining a sense of conversation and connection with the audience.

09:30-17:00. This is an indicative structure; session order and time spent on each activity may vary with the group.

YOUR PROGRAMME / DAY TWO

Put your skills into practice.

Develop your delivery in different presenting situations, then use filming and feedback to identify your next steps.

MORNING / 01

Studio & location presenting

Adapt your performance to different settings. Put your camera technique into practice as you bring a subject to life.

MORNING / 02

Interviews & conversation

Practise asking clear questions, listening carefully and responding naturally to the person you are speaking with.

AFTERNOON / 03

Delivery across platforms

Explore how your style can work for television, YouTube and social video, while keeping your own personality.

AFTERNOON / 04

Filming, feedback & next steps

Record material, review your performance and discuss what to keep developing after the course.

09:30-17:00. This is an indicative structure; session order and time spent on each activity may vary with the group.

WHAT IS INCLUDED

Take your progress with you.

The aim is to leave with practical experience, a clearer understanding of your presenting style and useful material to build on.

1

Professional showreel footage

Filmed material is included to help you showcase your presenting. Before booking, ask the team about the format, delivery time and how you can use it.

2

Individual coaching and feedback

With a maximum of four participants, there is room for personal guidance and attention to the areas you want to improve.

3

Career guidance and ongoing support

Receive advice on developing your skills, exploring opportunities and deciding what to work on next.

4

A CPD-accredited certificate

Receive a certificate on completion to recognise your professional development.

A FOUNDATION FOR YOUR NEXT STEP

Two days can give you a valuable starting point. Keep practising afterwards, use your feedback and continue developing your skills. The course does not guarantee presenting work.

THE PEOPLE BEHIND THE TRAINING

Practical experience. Personal support.

Founded by Darren Simons

Aspire brings more than 20 years of broadcast experience into its training. Its coaches are working media professionals who understand what helps a presenter connect with an audience.

The focus is on helping you develop an approach that feels natural to you.

Make the most of your two days

Bring a goal

Think about what you want to present and the audience you would like to reach.

Bring your curiosity

Be ready to try different approaches, ask questions and learn through playback.

Share what will help

Tell the team about any access or learning needs and ask for joining instructions before you travel.
